Appliances manufactured before 1990 can use three to four times more electricity than newer models so getting rid of these inefficient energy hogs is a smart choice. Recycling inefficient appliances saves energy, helps curtail growing peak load demand, and prevents the release of greenhouse gases. With this program your inefficient appliance will be disposed of properly, with over 90% of the unit being recycled by ARCA Recycling, our contracted recycler.

There is a limited time frame left for this program.
